BOTH VOTE FOR UNION.

MEETINGS AT THE BRICK CHURCH AND ANNOUNCED AT THE OPENING OF THE THE CHURCH OF THE COVENANT.

THE PRESENTERY WILL NOW BE ASKED TO RATIFY THIS ACTION-TERMS OF THE AGREEMENT.

A further step toward the union of the Brick Presbyterian Church, Thirty-several-st. and Fifth-ave., and the Church of the Covenant, Thirty-fifthst, and Park-ave., was taken last night. The churches have both done all that is in their power and it now remains for the Presbytery to put its seal of approval on their action, and grant their seal of approval of their action, and grant their petition for amalgamation. At both churches con-gregational meetings were held and a basis of agree-ment for consolidation in the form of a series of ment for consolidation in the form of a series of resolutions was submitted to each, the gist of which nant; that the Board of Deacons shall consist en members, of whom seven shall be chosen om the Brick Church and six from the Church of the Covenant; the properties of the churches shall be held by a board of trustees conshall be held by a board of trustees consisting of nine members of the Brick Church and six from the Church of the Covenant. The pastors of the two churches are to sustain equal and co-ordinate relations to the united church. A petition is to be presented to the Presbytery requesting its consent to the proposed union.

At the Church of the Covenant meeting W. H. Moore and H. D. Noyes presided. After a full discussion, the resolutions were unanimously adopted. Among those present were D. H. McAlpin, Payson Merrill, W. W. Hoppin, Eugene Smith and A. E. Marling.

At the Brick Church meeting the resolutions ere passed after much discussion, with one disnaing vote, and J. D. Parsons, W. D. Barbor and J. Holden were appointed by the moderator, Dr. enry van Dyke, to present the petition to the Presency van Dyke, to present the petition to the Presence at its meeting on the second Monday in Jan-

HIS SPEECH INTERRUPTED BY SOCIALISTS-ZA-NARDELLI'S RESIGNATION NOT ACCEPTED-AN ANARCHIST ARRESTED-THE SESSION

CLOSED IN DISORDER. Rome, Dec. 20.-Notwithstanding the police precautions against the admission of objectionable persons to the galleries of the Chamber of Deputies at the opening of the House to-day, soon after the opening a man in the public gallery sprang to his feet, and, addressing his remarks to the new Ministers, shouted, "You are a band of brigands."

resolutions was submitted to each, the gist of which is as follows: That the union is cordially entered into with the understanding that the historical continuity of the Brick Church, which has existed for over 126 years, be maintained; that the session of the united church shall consist of nine elders from the Brick Church and six from the Church of the Brick Church and six from the Church of the street of the Brick Church and six from the Church of the street of the Brick Church and six from the Church of the street of the str ber, the Prime Minister added, would have to solve urgent problems. When danger threatened, union was necessary. The Government would propose great economies. It was also necessary to impose some sacrifices upon the country.

At this point the Prime Minister was interrupted by the Socialists. The well-known leader of that party, Signor de Felice-Giuffrida, Member for the party, Signor de Feilce-Giusfrida, Member for the Hd District of Catania, Sicily, shouted: "The taxpayers are unable to pay another sou."

In his declaration Premier Crispi said: "The work to which we are addressing ourselves is only less difficult than elaborating the National Constitution. From 1856 to 1850 we labored to secure the material unity of the country. Now we must labor to increase the moral unity and cement the edifice for which the blood of our marryrs was shed. If the adoption of the requisite measures be delayed the resulting mischief will be twofold. Uneasuress at home will be increased and the lack of credit abroad will become more pronounced.

He did not refer to the Cabinst's foreign policy, he said, because home questions were now paramount, but his views were familiar. He was for friendship with all Nations and respect for treaties. He recognized that strong remedial measures were needed to tranquillize Sicily. He loved the workingmen and their associations, but the latter could not be allowed to attack the institutions of the country.

THE FRENCH PARLIAMENT PROROGUED.

A LARGE DEFICIT TO BE MADE UP IN THE NEXT

Minister, and M. Raynal, Minister of the Interior.

Before the Deputies adjourned they agreed to a supplementary credit of 46,100,000 francs for the general State service. A grave feature of the situation is that the Ministers will be required to make up in the next budget a leficit of aimost 75,000,000 francs. It is not the depression of trade alone, but a miscalculation of current receipts, that has forced the Government to ask twice for supplementary votes. That M. Burdeau, the new Finance Minister, has the capacity to meet the emergency is doubtful. The first proposal made by him as Minister received a check in the Chamber to-day.

Magoun was born August 23, 1841, in Cambridge, Mass. He prepared for Harvard at the Cambridge High School, but later gave up the idea of entering college in favor of a business experience at the went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the office of Kidder, Peabody & Co., varnish monufacturers, and in 1865 he went into the off is doubtful. The first proposal made by him as Minister received a check in the Chamber to-day when the Deputies rejected the bill to authorize the city of Paris to tax champagnes, genu're or artificial, fifty centimes a bottle. The plan was sup-effectual. Anarchist suspects have disappeared swiftly from the city, and the tone of the Socialist and Anarchist press, cowed by the prospect of prosecution or suppression, has been greatly moderated. Several pronounced Anarchist sheets, among them the notorious "La Revolte," have ceased to appear.

m the notorious "La itevolte," have ceased to 1987, any reports are heard in regard to the prost of international measures against the Anthese The exact truth as obtained from official roes is as follows: Spain and Austria sent rular notes to the Powers simultaneously, but in concert, to ask whether international measures against Anarchists might not be discussed in conference. No specific surgestions or proposals remade in these notes. England and Germany dined to consider the matter. Relation officed caleperation only on the condition that a nite plan should be proposed in advance. Austria them dropped the subject. Spain, however, penied the matter in fresh communications, surjecting treaty changes which would provide for cker extradition, a less compileated process of suspects.

the Chamber stating that he desired to withdraw from office because of his failure to form a Ministry. The Chamber unanimously refused to accept the resignation.

The Government statement was discussed at length, but no vote was taken.

The Socialists protested against the sending of more troops to maintain order in Sielly, where riots have recently occurred, which, it is charged, were instigated by Socialists. The Socialist deputies who spoke on the subject said that the hunger and oppression prevailing in Sicily were enough to provoke the people to revolution.

Signor Matteo Imbriani, the well-known Radical and Irredentist, Member for Corato, demanded that Prime Minister Crispi give energetle proof of his intentions by the immediate dismissal of Signor Ratazzi, Controller of the Royal Household, who, it is charged, was one of the chief authors of the bank corruption.

Several Deputies demanded that the documents examined by the committee of inquiry into the bank scandal be published. Uponar succeeded each demand. Finally the disorder became so great that the President suspended the sitting. When business was resumed a motion complimenting the committee upon its work was proposed. The friends of Signor Giolitit, whose dewnfull was the direct result of the committee's report, fought designately against the motion, but it was passed by a large majority.

THE LONG-DELAYED TARIFF REPORT.

CARRYING WATER ON BOTH SHOULDERS.

From The Boston Journal.

This attempt to carry water on both shoulders is neither sheere nor impressive. If protection is amountifulional and free trade is a good thing, the sconer the one is abandoned and the other adopted the better. But these "reformers" haven't the courage of their bad convictions.

THE BILL AND THE LECTURE DON'T AGREE.

It is impossible to reconcile the hybrid bill reported by the committee with the academic lecture which precedes the committee's analysis. It is neither a revenue nor a protective measure, but an incongruous mixture which is absolutely outside of and in defiance of any principles ever announced by a political party. THE PILL AND THE LECTURE DON'T AGREE.

NO BLIND PLATFORM WORSHIP.

From The New-York World.
It frankly admits at the outset that the bill does not attempt to do at once all that Democratic principle would require it carried to its logical end. There is no blind platform worship in it. IGNORING THE PAST AND THE PRESENT.

From The Utica Heraid.

The report accompanying the bill ignores the traths of history and the admonitions of the present eat, as its author shuts his ears to the present demands of the country, and rests his bill on the mistaken vote of a year ago.

PROTESTS THAT WILL BE LISTENED TO.

From The Boston Advertiser.

While Chairman Wilson and his colleagues were writing that report, the protests of workingmen in milis and workshaps and factories were on their way to Washington, and those protests will continue as the real nature of the Wilson bill is recognized more widely through the country.

From The Mail and Express.

It is amuzing considering the distressed condition of the workingmen and the widespread depression in manufacturing circles brought about by the mere threat of tariff reform legislation, that Professor Wilson and his Democratic associates on the Ways and Means Committee should directlus openly to renew the attack on the policy of protecting our home industries.
